This year's Hyundai India Couture Week was not just about the runway; it was about the vibe. And no one brought that vibe stronger than Manish Malhotra, who turned day four of the event into a full-blown couture party at the Taj Palace in Delhi. It was not your usual fashion show. Think: glam invite-only guest list, artfully plated hors d'oeuvres, smooth cocktails and couture showcased like it belonged in a cinematic set.

While Brazilian supermodel Alessandra Ambrosio ruled the ramp as the showstopper, actor Tamannaah Bhatia owned the evening as a guest. Just one step into the venue, and all eyes were on her. And rightfully so.

Tamannaah Bhatia wore a golden-yellow gown from Manish Malhotra's collection INAYA. The off-shoulder silhouette was all about effortless glamour. The silver embellishments added a touch of bling, while the sweetheart neckline brought a soft, romantic feel to the gown.
