Hollywood – Selena Gomez, the multi-talented singer, actress, and founder of Rare Beauty, has once again set the internet buzzing—this time with her unusual yet effective 7-step skincare routine. Shared on TikTok with her 45.2 million followers, the video quickly became a hot topic among fans eager to replicate her glowing, red-carpet-ready complexion.

The Only Murders in the Building star began her video with a gentle serum massage, encouraging followers to pick a formula that best suits their skin type for effective makeup removal. She then rinsed her face with water before moving on to micellar water, a product she swears by for deep cleansing.

In a surprising twist, Gomez revealed step three—applying micellar water with a beauty blender to delicately clean the under-eye area, ensuring every trace of makeup is gone. The method struck fans as unconventional yet genius, reflecting her playful approach to beauty.

While some of the products she uses might lean toward the high-end, Gomez assured that the steps can be easily recreated with more budget-friendly alternatives available in the market. The key, she hinted, is consistency and knowing what works for your skin.

From the red carpet to her everyday social media presence, Selena's radiant skin remains one of her most admired features—and now, with this peek into her beauty regimen, fans can try to capture a bit of that glow for themselves
