The North Face x Aimé Leon Dore: When Outdoor Icons Meet Luxury Streetwear

In a bold collaboration that bridges the gap between performance wear and luxury fashion, The North Face has teamed up with New York-based Aimé Leon Dore to reimagine its most iconic pieces in premium fabrics and elevated silhouettes.

The collection highlights The North Face classics—each reworked with Aimé Leon Dore's refined design language.

Key Pieces From the Collection

- Nuptse Jacket transformed in Casentino wool, offering a luxurious spin on the outdoor essential.
- Denali Jacket reimagined in all-nylon, combining heritage with sleek urban appeal.
- Ballistic Nylon Borealis Backpack built for both city commutes and rugged adventures.
- Leather North Dome Rope Bag a stylish nod to climbing heritage.
- Verto Alpine Shoe blending mountaineering performance with everyday wearability.
- Firefighter Jacket a three-layer weatherproof shell, merging traditional firefighter details with street-ready design.

Design Philosophy

"Our collaboration with Aimé Leon Dore inspired us to reimagine iconic The North Face pieces originally born on the mountain," said David Whetstone, The North Face's director of global collaborations and energy.

He added, "We've elevated classics like the Nuptse, Denali, Borealis, and Verto with pinnacle materializations like Casentino Wool, Leather, and Ballistic Nylon which have unlocked a new depth of color within our Summit Gold, The North Face Blue, and Evergreen iconic colors."

The collection reflects Aimé Leon Dore's minimal yet impactful aesthetic, seamlessly enhancing The North Face's DNA of innovation and exploration.

Launch Details

The The North Face x Aimé Leon Dore collection will launch on September 19, 2025 at Aimé Leon Dore's New York and London stores, online, and in select The North Face stores across Asia.
