Bollywood celebrated Ganesh Chaturthi with style this year at Jackky Bhagnani's renowned festive gathering. Amidst the aartis, dhol beats, and starry guest list—featuring Ranbir Kapoor and Aditya Roy Kapur—Arjun Kapoor emerged as the fashion focal point.

He donned a striking deep navy outfit, thoughtfully combining a bandhgala-style jacket with intricate embroidery and a dhoti-salwar drape—a gleaming example of contemporary ethnic menswear. Arjun's outfit featured attention-grabbing details, complemented by chunky rings, layered chains, and his signature rugged beard, elevating the overall look with masculine charisma and style-forward flair. Fashion enthusiasts hailed the outfit as a breath of fresh inspiration for festive menswear.

Meanwhile, amid the paparazzi frenzy, a viral meme resurfaced involving Arjun from the past. Opting for discretion, he disabled comments on his social accounts, maintaining poise amid the digital noise.

Beyond the glam, the bash radiated warmth, tradition, and festive spirit—intensified by heartfelt prayers, designer ensembles, and the camaraderie of Bollywood's finest. Arjun Kapoor's modern take on ethnic wear didn't just turn heads—it added a contemporary, stylish pulse to the celebration.
