

Shoppers Stop Appoints Nabamita Banerjee as Chief HR Officer

Published on 09 Sep 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

Shoppers Stop, one of India's leading fashion and lifestyle retailers, has announced the appointment of Nabamita Banerjee as its new Chief Human Resource Officer (CHRO). Effective from September 1, Banerjee brings over 18 years of diverse experience in human resources across the IT, retail, and quick-service restaurant (QSR) sectors.

Prior to joining Shoppers Stop, Banerjee served as the Head of Human Resources at Tata Starbucks for more than five and a half years. She has also held significant roles at Apparel Group and Patni Computers, where she managed business HR and compensation for over 15,000 employees across India and the EMEA region.

In her new role, Banerjee is expected to leverage her expertise in business partnering, talent management, compensation and benefits, and change management to strengthen Shoppers Stop's talent agenda and organizational culture.

Kavindra Mishra, Managing Director & CEO of Shoppers Stop, expressed confidence in Banerjee's ability to drive the company's people-first strategies to support its growth and innovation agenda.

Banerjee holds a Bachelor of Engineering in Electronics and Communication from LD College of Engineering and a Postgraduate Diploma in e-Business (Human Resources) from Welingkar Institute of Management. Her appointment marks a significant step in Shoppers Stop's commitment to fostering a high-performing, engaged, and inclusive workforce.
