

Channing Tatum Makes Red Carpet Debut with Daughter

Published on 12 Sep 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

Channing Tatum and Inka Williams made their red carpet debut as a couple at the Los Angeles premiere of Demon Slayer: Kimetsu no Yaiba – Infinity Castle on September 9, 2025. They were joined by Tatum's 12-year-old daughter, Everly, whom he shares with ex-wife Jenna Dewan.

A Family Affair on the Red Carpet

The trio posed for photos at the TCL Chinese Theatre, marking a rare public appearance for Tatum's daughter. Tatum, 45, wore a navy double-breasted suit over a white T-shirt, while Williams, 26, dazzled in a strapless sparkling gown. Everly wore a ruffled periwinkle dress, complementing her father's ensemble.

A Special Occasion for Inka Williams

The premiere was also significant for Williams, as it coincided with her 26th birthday. Tatum celebrated the occasion by sharing sweet photos and messages for her on Instagram Stories.

Tatum's Role in the Film

In Demon Slayer: Infinity Castle, Tatum voices the character Keizo in the English dub of the popular Japanese anime film. He mentioned that his involvement in the project earned him "cool dad points" with Everly. InStyle

Relationship Timeline

Tatum and Williams have been publicly linked since February 2025, following Tatum's breakup with former fiancée Zoë Kravitz in October 2024. They confirmed their relationship in April 2025 with an Instagram post celebrating Tatum's birthday. Their appearance at the premiere marks their first red carpet event together.

For more style updates & exclusive fashion stories follow indiafashionicon.com