

Tiger Shroff's Anime Passion at 'Demon Slayer' Screening

Published on 13 Sep 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

Bollywood actor Tiger Shroff recently attended the fan screening of Demon Slayer: Kimetsu No Yaiba – Infinity Castle in Mumbai, where he expressed his deep admiration for anime and connected with fans.

Embracing Anime Culture

At the event, Tiger shared how anime has been a significant source of inspiration for him, especially as a martial artist. He highlighted the discipline, training, and determination showcased by anime characters, which resonate with his own journey. Through platforms like Crunchyroll, Tiger has been able to engage more closely with the anime community in India, witnessing its growth from a niche interest to a mainstream phenomenon.

The Screening Event

The screening, organized by Crunchyroll and Sony Pictures India, took place on September 7, 2025, attracting hundreds of anime enthusiasts. Fans attended in cosplay, embodying their favorite characters from the series. Tiger Shroff and actress Rashmika Mandanna also participated in the theme, with Tiger donning an outfit inspired by Zenitsu, a character from the anime. Rashmika paid homage to the sibling duo Tanjiro and Nezuko with her attire.

Connecting with Fans

The event provided a platform for fans to interact with Tiger Shroff, who took the opportunity to bond with them over shared interests in anime. His presence underscored the growing influence of anime in Indian pop culture and the bridging of gaps between Bollywood and anime fandoms.
