At the 2025 Primetime Emmy Awards, Severance leads the nominations, but it was Jenna Ortega who grabbed attention for her bold fashion choice. The Wednesday actress stepped onto the red carpet in a daring Givenchy outfit that turned heads—with a striking jewel-encrusted top that stole the show.

The Look That Stole the Spotlight

Jenna wore a black skirt with a thigh-high slit that added drama and movement. But it was her nearly bare jewel-encrusted bra top—woven with pearls and gemstones—that truly made an impact. It evoked memories of Death Becomes Her, specifically Isabella Rossellini's Lisle von Rhuman.

She paired the ensemble with minimal accessories: strappy black heels, simple pearl studs, and a ring. Her makeup leaned bold—smoky eyes and a vivid red lip—insisting she wasn't shying away from attention.

Context & Reactions

Although Jenna wasn't among the nominees this year, her red carpet moment came as Severance dominated with 27 nominations. The Penguin and The White Lotus Season 3 followed closely behind. Meanwhile, fans celebrated how she balanced the look—matching daring pieces with understated jewelry and cohesive makeup.

Jenna Ortega's 2025 Emmys ensemble proved that fashion can make a statement beyond awards. With her jewel-top, bold makeup, and confident presence, she reminded everyone that red carpets are as much about personality as style.
