

Ananya Panday Stuns in Baby-Pink Chanel Swimsuit Worth ?1 L

Published on 17 Sep 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

Ananya Panday recently vacationed in the Maldives, and she turned heads immediately.

Her standout swimwear is a baby-pink one-piece from Chanel with cut-out at the waist. Also, the design is minimalist, yet it blends classic elegance with beach-appropriate style. According to Chanel's official listing, it costs about ?1,08,700. Interestingly, the set includes a matching swim cap, though she appears not to have used it.

Styling

While wearing the Chanel swimsuit, Panday paired it with a beige woven tote bag. Also, she lounged in a hammock, adding a flower behind one ear as a tropical accent.

She wore stacked dainty necklaces; one featured a starfish, enhancing seaside aesthetics.

More Vacation OOTDs

Beyond high-end swimwear, her Maldives photodumps showed many laid-back beachwear looks.

For instance, she wore a crochet white bikini for sunbathing, a simple blue bikini for scuba diving. For casual daytime outings, she chose a scoop-neck tank top with cotton shorts; another look included a knitted vest with cargo shorts. In the evenings, she switched to glam looks—black tube top, mini skirt with tassels and bead-floral design

Brand Ambassador Role: Chanel & Expectations

Since April 2025, she has served as Chanel's brand ambassador in India.

Therefore, she often features Chanel even during leisure moments like beach vacations. Fans reacted strongly when they saw the price tag. Many expressed admiration, others raised eyebrows. Moreover, such posts help elevate brand visibility while reinforcing her fashion credibility. Because over ?1 lakh for a swimsuit feels extravagant to some, comments varied widely. Nevertheless, many praised how she made even costlier pieces look easy and holiday-ready.

Fashion Takeaways: What to Learn

First, even minimal swimwear can uplift one's vacay OOTD when styled with accessories.

Second, investment pieces boost one's style portfolio, especially for influencers and ambassadors.

Third, beach wardrobes benefit from versatility—crochet, cottons, knitwear, and statement swimwear together.
