On September 17, 2025, Mumbai hosted the much-anticipated premiere of Aryan Khan's debut series, Bads of Bollywood. The event attracted the crème de la crème of Bollywood, including Shah Rukh Khan, Ranbir Kapoor, Alia Bhatt, and Kajol. However, it was Nita Ambani who stole the spotlight.

Nita Ambani's Mesmerizing Look

Nita Ambani graced the red carpet in a jade green lamé saree, exuding timeless elegance. The saree was paired with a delicate Chantilly lace blouse adorned with Swarovski crystals, adding a touch of contemporary couture to the classic ensemble. The outfit was a creation by renowned designer Manish Malhotra, who shared the details on Instagram, praising Nita's grace and poise.

Statement Jewelry and Styling

To complement her saree, Nita chose a statement necklace featuring double strings of diamonds and a large blue flower on the left collarbone. Her hair was styled in thick, loose waves, enhancing her sophisticated appearance. Mukesh Ambani, her husband, accompanied her, looking sharp in a black suit with a white shirt.

Family Presence at the Event

The Ambani family made a notable appearance at the premiere. Alongside Nita and Mukesh, their son Akash Ambani and daughters-in-law Radhika Merchant and Shloka Mehta were present. Their daughter Isha Ambani also attended, marking a significant family presence at the event.
