The "Toasted" Manicure Explained

The "toasted" manicure combines soft beige hues with a subtle iridescent finish, reminiscent of autumn's golden hour. Bachik achieved this effect using Essie's Special Effect polish in 'Liquid Sunrise,' a deep beige infused with pink and green iridescent pearls. The look is completed with a glossy top coat from Bachik's own line, Click Colors, ensuring a luminous finish.

Achieving the Look

To recreate Gomez's "toasted" nails:

1. Preparation: Use Tweezerman tools to shape and buff the nails, ensuring a clean canvas.
2. Base Coat: Apply Essie's 'Liquid Sunrise' for the warm, iridescent base.
3. Top Coat: Finish with Click Colors' 'Super Clear' top coat for added shine.

The "toasted" manicure embodies the cozy, warm tones of fall, making it a versatile choice for various occasions. Its understated elegance complements Gomez's refined style, offering a chic alternative to traditional autumn nail colors. Selena Gomez's "toasted" manicure is a testament to her influence in setting beauty trends. With its warm, radiant tones, it captures the essence of Fall 2025, making it a must-try for those looking to update their nail game this season.
