Kate Middleton & Melania Trump Twin in Chic Suede Jackets During Scouts Visit

London, September 2025 – Fashion diplomacy was in full swing as Kate Middleton and Melania Trump stepped out in near-matching suede jackets during their visit with the pint-sized members of the Scouts Squirrels program on Thursday.

The Princess of Wales, 43, opted for an olive green Me + Em cropped military jacket, paired with a Ralph Lauren ankle-length Evilyn Birdseye Tweed Skirt ($2,025), a croc-effect belt, and a silk scarf sourced from local artisans at Sudbury Silk Mills. Her look was completed with Gianvito Rossi tall suede boots and Spells of Love Teardrop Charm Earrings ($125)—a perfect balance of countryside chic and regal polish.

Meanwhile, First Lady Melania Trump, 55, exuded understated sophistication in a caramel Ralph Lauren safari-style suede jacket, styled with Loro Piana cropped trousers and Roger Vivier flats, blending luxury with ease.

? A Week of Fashion Highlights

The suede moment follows a string of standout fashion choices from the two women. On Wednesday evening, both dazzled at a glittering state banquet—Trump in a bold Carolina Herrera gown and Middleton in a Phillipa Lepley lace creation. Earlier in the day, the First Lady made waves in an ultra-wide-brim Dior couture disc hat, while Middleton leaned into earthy tones with her signature boots and silk scarf accents.

Together, their coordinated looks underscored how style can quietly communicate harmony and seasonal elegance on the global stage.
