

Jennifer Aniston Stuns in Tom Ford at The Morning Show

Published on 23 Sep 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

Jennifer Aniston stepped out in New York for The Morning Show press tour. She wore Tom Ford resort 2025 collection, showing off her relaxed-yet-elegant fashion sense.

Her outfit juxtaposed classic lines with modern minimalism.

The Details

She paired the Tom Ford look with subtle accessories, keeping attention on the silhouette.

Her coat/dress was black and sharply tailored, resonating with her signature style. Footwear was simple, sandals or sleek flats, lending comfort to her ensemble

Makeup and hair followed suit—understated, polished, with natural tones and soft texture.

Fashion Take & Reception

Critics noted that the Tom Ford look reinforced Aniston's fashion identity: classic, timeless, minimal. Some pointed out the contrast between her usual palettes of neutrals and the sharper monochrome black in this case.

Others commented that while the look had strong pieces, proportions (like the dropped waist or flare) had mixed reactions.

Context & Meaning

Aniston's choice of Tom Ford aligns with The Morning Show Season 4 promotion, adding polish to her public appearances. It reflects her balance between celebrity style and personal consistency.

The muted styling lets the brand speak without distracting from her message or the show.
