

Sushmita's Vogue Forces Of Fashion 2025 Look

Published on 24 Sep 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

At the Vogue Forces of Fashion 2025 event, actress Sushmita Sen made a striking style statement. She wore a green draped gown by Deme by Gabriella, the design featuring elegant folds and rich drapery.

To accent the gown, she paired it with diamond earrings and bracelets that added sparkle. Furthermore, she added a leopard brooch, which provided a bold, quirky touch to the graceful ensemble.

Her look drew praise, especially for how the gown complemented her frame and presence on stage. Thereafter colour—deep green—stood out in the fashion crowd. The drape of the gown created movement and elegance under lights.

Hair & Style Critique

While many admired the outfit, there was one aspect that drew critique: her choice of hairstyle. Observers noted the hairdo felt slightly dated, not matching the otherwise modern and high-glamour outfit.

Some wished she'd opted for a chic updo, something sleeker that might elevate the overall look. This contrast—glam dressing with a more traditional hairdo—was what many called a missed styling opportunity.

Interestingly, there is a note from audience commentary recalling that Sushmita expressed in an interview/podcast that she doesn't prefer tied-up styles for herself. She said she doesn't feel she looks her best that way, which may explain her hair choices.

What Makes It Work

Even with the hair debate, the outfit resonated for several reasons:

1. Harmony of Accessories: Thus the diamonds and bracelets harmonised with the drape and sheen of the gown, without overpowering it.
2. Statement Brooch: Therefore leopard motif brooch added character—edgy and unexpected.
3. Colour & Draping: The green hue and the draping style played into the “lights, camera, presence” effect, making Sushmita stand out.

These elements combined to deliver a visually memorable look.

Looking Ahead

Given the strong foundation of this look, future appearances could benefit from small tweaks to polish the ensemble even more:

- Trying a sleek updo or modern chignon to balance glamour and contemporary edge.
- Minimal loose tendrils or face framing strands to soften the updo without losing elegance.
