

Mouni Roy Shines at Milan Fashion Week in Dhruv Kapoor Ensemble

Published on 25 Sep 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

Bollywood actress Mouni Roy turned heads at Milan Fashion Week 2025. Previously seen at fashion events in Paris and London, she now cemented her global fashion icon status. Moreover, her appearance highlighted the growing influence of Indian designers on international platforms.

The Dhruv Kapoor Ensemble

For the event, Mouni wore a Dhruv Kapoor Fall/Winter 2025-26 ensemble. The voluminous blouse featured a red-and-white checkered print with puffed sleeves and gathered cuffs. Additionally, the wrap-style asymmetrical skirt added fluidity and movement to her look. To complete the outfit, she paired it with pointed knee-length leather boots. Her soft waves and minimal accessories emphasized effortless elegance.

Supporting Indian Designers Internationally

By choosing Dhruv Kapoor, Mouni promoted Indian talent globally. Consequently, she showcased the fusion of traditional craftsmanship with modern silhouettes. Furthermore, her choice reinforces the growing presence of Indian fashion on the global stage.

Blending Tradition and Contemporary Style

Mouni's ensemble successfully merged Eastern and Western fashion sensibilities. Her style highlighted how Indian motifs and craftsmanship can complement modern trends. Additionally, it served as a source of inspiration for fashion enthusiasts worldwide. Mouni Roy's appearance at Milan Fashion Week 2025 was a masterclass in elegance and modern styling. Furthermore, her support for Indian designers reflects her commitment to bridging Indian artistry with global fashion. Fans and critics alike continue to watch her evolve as a global fashion icon.

For more style updates & exclusive fashion stories follow indiafashionicon.com