

Suhana Khan's Ivory Lehenga: A Modern Take on Traditional Elegance

Published on 25 Sep 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

Bollywood actress Suhana Khan recently captivated fashion enthusiasts with her appearance in Torani's Maah? Nyra lehenga choli. The ensemble, crafted in jeni silk and organza, showcased a harmonious blend of traditional craftsmanship and contemporary design.

Intricate Design and Embroidery

The lehenga featured a corset-like fit at the waist and hips, flaring into a wide, flowing skirt. Each motif on the fabric was brought to life through fine gold hand embroidery, resembling a painted manuscript. Therefore choli, with its gently scalloped neckline and fitted bodice, balanced structure and softness. Overall sheer dupatta, edged in ornate zari, was draped over one shoulder, adding fluidity to the silhouette.

Heirloom-Inspired Jewellery

Complementing the ensemble, Suhana wore layered neckpieces: an emerald-studded choker and a delicate string of stones. Drop earrings, an emerald ring, and a statement ring added depth to her look. A stack of kundan-meets-emerald bangles on one wrist and a jewelled potli in her hands completed the ensemble, infusing it with traditional charm.

Soft Glam Makeup and Hairstyling

Suhana's hair was in styling with soft waves with a few strands pin back. Her makeup featured natural skin, a hint of blush, kohl-rimmed eyes, and pink lips. Glossy beige nails kept the focus on the embroidery and gems, enhancing the overall elegance of the look.

Cultural Significance and Brand Philosophy

Drawing inspiration from founder Karan Torani's roots in Delhi and Bhopal, the brand pays homage to India's rich cultural heritage. Through intricate handlooms and traditional crafts reimaged with contemporary sensibility, Torani's creations reflect the evolving codes of Indian occasion wear while honouring centuries-old craftsmanship.
