Samantha Ruth Prabhu turned heads at the Streaming Academy Awards. She not only won the Best Actor – Series (Female, Popular, Hindi) award for Citadel: Honey Bunny. But she also made a major fashion statement.

She walked the red carpet in a strapless bodycon dress from That Antiquepiece by Yash Patil. The ensemble hugged her silhouette. It blended deep brown tones with a subtle metallic sheen. Beaded detailing in black traced the fabric. She paired it with Christian Louboutin pumps.

Her hair was styled by Daksh Nidhi. It fell in soft waves, parted in the centre. Her makeup, by Avni Rambhia, highlighted fresh, glowing skin. She used soft metallic shimmer on the eyelids and opted for a nude-pink lip.

For accessories, she kept it elegant. Diamond hoop earrings, a sculpted ring, and a delicate bracelet completed the look.

When Samantha took the stage to accept her trophy, the moment was cinematic. The gleam of the award mirrored the shine of her dress. The win and the look complemented each other.

This appearance adds to her growing reputation as a style icon. Over the years, she has experimented with bold silhouettes and diverse aesthetics.

At this event, she did both: she won an award and delivered a red carpet moment.
