

BLACKPINK's Rosé Looks "Unreal" in Lingerie Blue Romper

Published on 04 Oct 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

BLACKPINK's Rosé recently stunned fans with a daring fashion look. She wore a pale-blue romper styled like lingerie. The outfit blurred lines between intimate wear and public glam. Social media users quickly called her appearance "unreal." Yahoo+1

The Lingerie-Inspired Look

In photos, the romper featured delicate lines and fabric reminiscent of lingerie. She paired it with styling elements that added edge and sophistication. For instance, one look showed a lace bra top blended with a blazer and trousers. The combination balanced sensuality with structure.

Fans React: "Unreal" & More

Reactions poured in quickly across platforms. One fan commented simply: "Unreal." Others called the look "legendary" and praised her visual impact. Many applauded her confidence in wearing such a bold ensemble. Yet a few questioned whether the styling was too risky for daily wear.

Fashion Context & Interpretation

This isn't the first time Rosé explores lingerie as outerwear. Her GQ Hong Kong photo shoot earlier featured a bra-style top behind a blazer. Her look reflects a growing fashion trend: turning undergarments into statement pieces. The romper caught eyes because it pushed that boundary boldly. Her boldness invites discussion about sophistication, sensuality, and modern femininity.

Also, it highlights evolving norms about what is acceptable in mainstream fashion scenes
