

Hailey Bieber Turns Heads in Lingerie-Inspired Look at Saint Laurent Show

Published on 04 Oct 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

Hailey Bieber made a bold statement at the Saint Laurent Spring/Summer 2026 show during Paris Fashion Week. She embraced the lingerie trend by wearing satin underwear as part of her public ensemble. Her look featured butter-yellow satin shorts with cream floral lace trim, styled over sheer tights.

Styling & Layering Decisions

To balance the intimate base layer, Hailey layered a two-tone windbreaker jacket atop it. The jacket's colours — cinnamon, paprika, olive — gave an autumnal, utilitarian edge. She finished the look with sheer brown tights and crimson mules. Thus, the softness of lingerie met structured streetwear in one look.

Why This Look Resonates

Hailey's outfit aligns with the growing trend of wearing lingerie as outerwear. It challenges conventional fashion boundaries by making intimate wear visible and stylish. By combining satin, lace, and outerwear, she highlights texture and contrast. Furthermore, her choice demonstrates confidence in turning something private into a statement.

Reactions & Fashion Commentary

Fashion media rapidly called her look daring and trendsetting. Some praised how she recontextualised underwear in high fashion settings. Nevertheless, many agreed she pushed the aesthetic envelope gracefully. Saint Laurent has long played with sensuality, edge, and elegance in its shows. Hailey's look fit well with the brand's current direction — minimalism laced with provocativeness.
