

Priyanka Chopra's Modern Saree-Inspired Gown at New York Gala

Published on 04 Oct 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

At the Pratham USA gala in New York on October 3, 2025, Priyanka Chopra captivated attendees with a contemporary take on traditional Indian attire. She wore a strapless Elie Saab gown in cobalt blue and nude, featuring a fitted bodice, low square neckline, and a mermaid-style skirt. A pleated tulle overlay draped over her shoulder mimicked the pallu of a saree, blending Eastern heritage with Western couture.

Intricate Detailing and Elegant Accessories

The gown was adorned with shimmering blue sequins, silver and blue floral threadwork, and delicate tulle layers. Priyanka accessorized with Bvlgari jewelry, including a sapphire ring, diamond ring, gold bracelet watch, and gemstone earrings. Firstly hair was styled in a pulled-back, center-parted bun with soft face-framing strands. Secondly makeup was understated with feathered brows, smoky eyes, rosy cheeks, and a glossy mauve lip.

Fans Applaud the Fusion of Cultures

Thus ensemble received widespread acclaim on social media, with fans praising Priyanka's ability to blend cultural elements seamlessly. One user commented, "Desi girl for a reason," highlighting her role as a global ambassador of Indian fashion. Hence the look was celebrated for its elegance and cultural homage.

A Night of Glamour and Purpose

The gala, hosted by Pratham USA, supports education initiatives in India. Priyanka shared moments from the evening on Instagram, expressing gratitude for the opportunity to contribute to such a noble cause. Therefore her appearance underscored her commitment to philanthropy and her status as a fashion icon

For more style updates & exclusive fashion stories follow indiafashionicon.com