

Meghan Markle's Paris Fashion Week Debut Sparks Backlash

Published on 06 Oct 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

The Duchess of Sussex, Meghan Markle, made a stunning comeback to Europe with her debut appearance at Paris Fashion Week 2025.

This marked her first time attending the high-profile event, and naturally, her presence created quite a buzz.

Her choice of show was significant. Meghan attended Balenciaga's runway presentation, sitting in the coveted front row. This outing signaled her deepening engagement with global fashion circles — and her growing confidence in using fashion as a form of personal expression.

Elegant Fashion Choices that Spoke Volumes

At the event, Meghan opted for an all-white Balenciaga look that exuded modern sophistication.

She wore a long, flowy white shirt with matching wide-legged trousers, adding a dramatic cape draped over her shoulders.

Her sleek bun, minimal makeup, and simple gold accessories amplified her effortless elegance.

The styling reflected Meghan's preference for clean lines and quiet luxury. The white ensemble, symbolic of peace and purity, also stood out amid the dark-toned looks of other attendees.

Later in the day, Meghan made a quick outfit change, switching to a full black look.

The second outfit, featuring a floor-length cape gown, drew immediate comparisons to Princess Diana's timeless style.

Throughout the event, she interacted with fashion icons, including Vogue's Anna Wintour, reinforcing her growing influence in the global style arena.

A Surprising Move — and Strong Reactions

While fashion critics admired her poise, social media had mixed reactions.

The main issue? Meghan's association with Balenciaga, a brand still recovering from its 2022 ad campaign controversy involving children and inappropriate imagery.
