

Nita Ambani's Emerald Jewels Steal the Spotlight at Bvlgari Show

Published on 06 Oct 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

At a recent Bvlgari showcase, Nita Ambani captivated attendees with her impeccable style and a collection of emerald jewelry that exuded opulence. The highlight of her ensemble was a magnificent emerald necklace, reportedly valued between ₹500–600 crore. This masterpiece featured two palm-sized emeralds, each weighing over 400 carats. Alongside diamonds from the Mughal era, showcasing a blend of heritage and luxury.

A Legacy of Luxury

Nita Ambani's affinity for emeralds is well-known, with several pieces in her collection being passed down through generations. For instance, at the inauguration of the Nita Mukesh Ambani Cultural Centre (NMACC), she wore a vintage Kundan and Polki emerald set, believed to have belonged to the Nizam of Hyderabad. Thus the set included intricate jhumkas, a vintage emerald jadau neckpiece, and tear-drop emeralds, epitomizing timeless elegance.

Setting Trends in Bridal Jewelry

Nita Ambani's choice to wear emeralds has influenced bridal jewelry trends significantly. Emeralds are now being embraced by brides, both traditional and contemporary, for their rich color and versatility. Celebrities like Kiara Advani, Parineeti Chopra, and Nayanthara have incorporated emeralds into their wedding ensembles, pairing them with lehengas and gowns alike.
