At the Spring 2026 Valentino show in Paris, singer Lana Del Rey made a rare public appearance with her husband, Jeremy Dufrene, and sister, Caroline Grant. The couple, who married in 2024, seldom appear together in public, making this outing particularly noteworthy.

Contrasting Fashion Statements

Del Rey embraced her vintage sensibilities with a delicate chiffon gown featuring whimsical details like a bow-tied waist and fur sleeves. She accessorized with Valentino's embroidered floral handbag and bowed slingbacks. In contrast, Dufrene donned a casual ensemble comprising a navy shirt jacket, pants, baseball cap, and upside-down gas station sunglasses. Their differing styles highlighted their individuality and added charm to their appearance.

A Stylish Family Affair

Del Rey's sister, Caroline Grant, complemented the bohemian vibe with a sheer, embroidered mini dress, paired with a minaudière bag and red platform heels. Together, the trio presented a chic family outing at the prestigious fashion event.
