

Rihanna Makes First Public Appearance Since Welcoming Baby No. 3

Published on 06 Oct 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

Rihanna made her first public appearance since welcoming her third child with A$AP Rocky. The couple was seen celebrating Rocky's 37th birthday in West Hollywood on Friday evening. Rihanna wore a black leather bomber jacket paired with feather-trimmed black pants, matching black heels, and sunglasses. She styled her long, curly hair in a middle part. Rocky complemented her look with a tan trench coat and matching pants, also wearing sunglasses. The pair were photographed chatting outside the venue before getting into a convertible Rolls-Royce, with Rihanna cheerfully waving at photographers from the backseat.

Welcoming Baby Rocki Irish Mayers

On September 24, Rihanna announced the birth of their daughter, Rocki Irish Mayers, born on September 13, 2025. She shared a photo on Instagram holding the newborn, along with a snapshot of tiny pink ribboned boxing gloves. Baby Rocki joins her older brothers, RZA Athelston (born in May 2022) and Riot Rose (born in August 2023). Page Six

A Glimpse into Their Family Life

Rihanna and A$AP Rocky, who have been romantically linked since 2020, have emphasized the importance of family life. They prioritize their home and relationship, focusing on creating traditions for their children. While rumors about marriage swirl, Rocky declined to confirm any marital status.
