Emma Watson made a stylish return to Paris Fashion Week, attending Miu Miu's Spring 2026 show at Palais d'Iéna. The actor, known for her minimalist fashion sense, embraced the season's slingback trend with a pair of Miu Miu's coveted kitten heels.

The Ensemble: Feminine and Refined

Watson's outfit featured a pale pink satin mini dress layered under a caramel suede jacket adorned with gold buttons. She accessorized with Miu Miu's black Arcadie bag and the aforementioned slingback heels, completing the look with clear oval sunglasses and gold jewelry.

A Parisian Departure

After the show, Watson departed in quintessential Parisian style—on a motorcycle. Clad in her chic ensemble and a white helmet, she waved to fans as she rode through the cobbled streets, adding a touch of glamour to her exit.
