Jennifer Lopez made a dramatic fashion statement on October 6, 2025. At the New York City premiere of Kiss of the Spider Woman, she appeared in a sculptural gown resembling a “Spider Queen.”

Her look instantly grabbed attention. The gown featured a spider-inspired corset and intricate design elements. From the back, the open silhouette made the piece even more striking.

Her hair style was an elegant updo, and makeup leaned bronzy to complement the gown.

A Surprise Reunion with Ben Affleck

The evening wasn’t just about fashion. Unexpectedly, Ben Affleck, her ex-husband, attended the premiere as a surprise guest.

Overall shared smiles, posed together, and exchanged warm gestures.

At one point, Affleck was seen placing his hand on her waist.

On stage, Lopez acknowledged his contribution. She said that “if it wasn’t for Ben, the movie wouldn’t have gotten made.” He called the movie “exquisite” and said, “Jennifer, you’re incredible.”

Given that the two finalized their divorce earlier this year, the warm reunion sparked speculation of “Bennifer 3.0.”

Fashion That Speaks to the Film

Lopez’s gown wasn’t just a style statement. It tied directly into the film’s themes. Kiss of the Spider Woman is about identity, transformation, and theatricality.

Therefore spider-like corset element echoed the title and character motifs. The dress came from designer Harris Reed’s Spring 2026 collection.

Finally aesthetic draws from Victorian silhouettes, florals, and dramatic forms—elements Reed is known for.
