

Lauren Sánchez Stuns in Rosette Corset Dress at Chanel's Show

Published on 08 Oct 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

Lauren Sánchez and Jeff Bezos made a stylish appearance at Chanel's Spring/Summer 2026 show during Paris Fashion Week. Held at the Grand Palais, the event marked Matthieu Blazy's debut as the brand's creative director. The couple joined a host of celebrities, including Margot Robbie, Nicole Kidman, and Penélope Cruz, to celebrate the occasion.

Lauren Sánchez's Show-Stopping Ensemble

Sánchez wore a striking black-and-white Chanel maxi dress that exuded timeless elegance. The gown featured a white halterneck strap and a structured corset bodice resembling quilted leather, reminiscent of the brand's iconic bags. A black rosette with a Chanel-branded center adorned the chest, adding a signature touch. The flowing black skirt included a high slit, revealing black ankle-strap heels, and was accessorized with bow earrings, a diamond bracelet, and a Chanel crossbody bag. Her hair was styled in soft, glamorous waves, completing the sophisticated look.

Jeff Bezos's Coordinated Look

Jeff Bezos complemented his wife's ensemble with a classic black suit layered over a fitted black sweater. He accessorized with blue-tinted sunglasses, maintaining a sleek and coordinated appearance alongside Sánchez.

For more style updates & exclusive fashion stories follow indiafashionicon.com