Shanaya Kapoor, one of Bollywood's rising fashion stars, continues to cement her status as a style icon. While she hasn't graced the cover of Vogue India recently, the young actor has become a familiar face in the magazine's fashion content—most notably through a new collaboration with Ralph Lauren.

In September 2025, Shanaya appeared in Vogue India's "Last Looks" digital feature, produced in association with Ralph Lauren. Where she prepared for an elegant festive evening hosted by the brand. The collaboration offered an intimate glimpse into her pre-event ritual and highlighted the effortless sophistication of Ralph Lauren's latest designs.

"Last Looks": Inside Shanaya's Ralph Lauren Moment

The Vogue India "Last Looks" series often pairs celebrities with luxury labels to capture the final touches before a big fashion moment. In Shanaya's episode, the actor was seen dressing in Ralph Lauren's signature minimal-meets-luxe aesthetic, embodying quiet confidence and refined glamour.

Therefore video reportedly showcased her in a tailored outfit that merged contemporary cuts with timeless detailing—a hallmark of Ralph Lauren's design philosophy. Soft lighting, neutral tones, and polished styling underscored her natural poise, giving the feature an editorial yet relatable tone.

Vogue's creative team highlighted Shanaya's calm energy, calling her "an emerging face of Indian modernity—poised, global, and unapologetically graceful."

At the Ralph Lauren Fall/Winter 2025 Event in Mumbai

Just days after the video's release, Shanaya Kapoor attended Ralph Lauren's Fall/Winter 2025 showcase in Mumbai on September 24, 2025. The event marked the brand's new season launch in India, blending American craftsmanship with Indian sophistication.

Shanaya arrived in an elegant Ralph Lauren ensemble, turning heads with her signature understated glamour. While the exact outfit details remain under wraps, insiders described her look as "polished and powerful"—reflecting the designer's emphasis on classic silhouettes and rich fabrics.

The event drew top Indian fashion personalities and influencers, with Vogue India documenting the evening.
