Ashna Vaswani's Devi Drapes 2.0: Winter Wedding Glam Meets Goddess Energy

Designer Ashna Vaswani is back with her latest festive edit, Devi Drapes 2.0, reimagining the Indian drape for the modern bride. Known for her bold silhouettes and statement embroidery, Vaswani's newest collection combines tribal-inspired motifs, luxe fabrics, and inventive draping techniques to elevate bridal and festive wardrobes this season.

? Inspiration and Palette

While the first edition, Devi Drapes 1, celebrated denim, Kota Doria, cotton, and mul, Devi Drapes 2.0 softens the narrative with hand-painted detailing by Jaipur's miniature artists. The motifs are inspired by the Goddess of the South, bringing temple bells, village life, and devotional energy into wearable couture.

The palette spans ivory, blue, matcha, salmon, black, and rich golds, with denim continuing as a core highlight—reimagined for luxe bridal wear.

? Winter Festive & Wedding Trends

Vaswani shares that statement drapes, metallic accents, jewel tones, and playful layering are trending this Diwali season. Mix-and-match separates are in high demand, with blouses doubling as crop tops, jackets over saris, and embellished trousers paired with draped tunics.

For winter weddings, she highlights:

- Brides: Modern lehengas with pockets, detachable drapes, layered dupattas
- Grooms: Tone-on-tone embroidery, metallic threadwork, sherwanis with capes
- Diwali wardrobe must-haves: Statement draped saris or lehengas, metallic blouses, jewel-tone kaftans, and versatile separates like embellished jackets with wide-legged trousers

Devi Drapes 2.0 is Vaswani's ode to modern bridal aesthetics—where heritage meets contemporary luxe, and goddess energy flows through every stitch.
