

Aditi Rao Hydari Glows in Ombre Pink Lehenga at Diwali Bash

Published on 14 Oct 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

Bollywood's style circle had plenty to talk about at Manish Malhotra's Diwali Bash 2025, and Aditi Rao Hydari was among those who made a graceful statement. She arrived in an outfit that balanced festivity and subtle elegance—soft in color but powerful in presence.

Photos from the event show her wearing a lehenga in ombre shades of pink, styled in the pavadai-thavani drape—a signature way she often carries lehengas.

The Look: Ombre Pink, Pavadai Thavani Style

Her outfit choice was distinct:

- The lehenga's ombre effect transitioned through shades of pink, creating a soft gradient that catches light gracefully.
- The drape was styled in pavadai-thavani style, a traditional South Indian drape that adds a heritage touch and plays with flow and layering.
- The choli (blouse) was somewhat bold or flashy, and according to fashion commentary, the drape helped to subdue or balance that flashiness.

Styling & Finishing Touches

Aditi's styling accentuated the outfit:

- She kept jewellery and accessories minimal, so the ombre and texture of the lehenga drape remained the focal point
- Makeup appeared subtle and glowing—likely in soft tones that complement pinks rather than overpowering them.
- Overall, her look projected a refined glamour: festive and feminine, without leaning too heavily into maximalism.

Why Her Look Resonated

What makes this appearance noteworthy:

- The ombre pink palette stood out in a setting where many outfits are gold, red, or heavy jewel tones. It offered a fresh and soft contrast.
- The use of pavadai-thavani drape style added cultural richness and elegance, setting her apart from more conventional drape styles.
