The ELLE Beauty Awards 2025 lit up Mumbai with some of the most glamorous red-carpet appearances of the year. From glittering gowns to avant-garde ensembles, the event became a showcase of individuality and bold fashion choices. Among the many stunning appearances, Sushmita Sen's look stood out as a masterclass in power dressing and effortless sophistication.

The Look: Tailored to Perfection

Sushmita's suit, tailored to precision, featured clean lines and a sleek silhouette that flattered her frame while exuding strength. The outfit's standout detail was its white lapels and vertical stripes, which added a crisp contrast to the otherwise monochrome base.

This thoughtful interplay of black and white elevated the look from classic to contemporary. The structured shoulders and narrow fit trousers emphasized poise, proving that minimalism, when executed with precision, can make the loudest statement.

Her choice to skip embellishments and lean on tailoring showcased a quiet confidence — a move that perfectly aligned with her personality: bold yet refined, fierce yet graceful.

Jewellery That Amplified Elegance

Complementing her striking suit, Sen opted for diamond-and-emerald jewellery — a pairing that injected just the right touch of luxury without overpowering the outfit. The glint of emerald green brought a fresh pulse to the monochrome palette.

Her accessories struck a delicate balance — enhancing, not distracting. It was a nod to timeless beauty, updated with modern sensibility.
