Diana Penty stole the spotlight at Lakmé Fashion Week 2025, walking the runway as the showstopper for designers Jigar and Nikita's debut collection, 11°E. She brought the modern bridal "Tassel Élysée Lehenga Set" to life, blending timeless craftsmanship with contemporary flair. The look perfectly embodied the collection's theme of a "global awakening from the East," merging heritage with modern design elements.

The Ensemble: Color, Fabric, and Design

The lehenga was crafted in a soothing Green Lily shade, complemented by deep pine accents. Some reports also noted soft pink beading, adding a subtle contrast to the pastel base. The garment was made from habutai silk, giving it a lustrous, fluid finish that moved elegantly on the runway.

The ensemble featured intricate embroidery and velvet appliqué, adding richness and texture to the piece. Playful tassels swayed with every step, while a statement belt introduced a contemporary twist to the traditional silhouette. To complete the bridal look, a delicate veil adorned with tulip motifs added a romantic and ethereal touch.

Styling That Elevated the Look

Diana Penty's styling balanced modernity with elegance. Minimalist jewelry allowed the intricate details of the lehenga to shine, while her sleek hair and soft makeup enhanced the ensemble's dreamy aesthetic. Her confident walk and graceful poise amplified the couture craftsmanship, making her the perfect muse for 11°E's debut showcase.

Why the Look Stands Out

This lehenga is a striking example of how heritage techniques can be for a contemporary audience. The fusion of embroidery, velvet appliqué, playful tassels, and statement accessories captures both tradition and trend, aligning with the collection's global appeal.
