

Yami Gautam's ₹13K Blush-Pink Suit Look is Soft, Serene & Stunning

Published on 03 Nov 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

During her recent promotional appearance, Yami Gautam stepped out in a blush-pink suit that's estimated to cost around ₹13,000.

The look impressed fashion observers for its calm elegance and modern tailoring—a fine balance between approachable and elevated style.

Look Breakdown: Colour, Cut & Styling

- Colour: The blush-pink tone is soft, feminine and less predictable than typical pastels or bold shades—it brings warmth without overwhelming.
- Silhouette: The suit's tailoring appears crisp yet relaxed—creating structure while maintaining comfort.
- Overall vibe: The outfit conveys softness and serenity: the choice of colour, the minimal accessories and the composed styling all point to an understated elegance. According to the article, “her look was calm, confident, and deeply rooted in grace.”

Why It Works

- Modern tailoring + gentle colour: The combination offers a fresh alternative to heavier gowns or loud prints—versatile for events, promos or day-to-evening wear.
- Less is more: The minimal accessory styling enhances the outfit rather than distracting from it.
- Colour confidence: Choosing blush pink signals comfort with subtlety.
- Budget-savvy elegance: With the outfit pegged at around ₹13,000 (which is moderate by celebrity-style standards), it shows that refined looks don't always require ultra-high designer price tags.
