Disha Patani was spotted in Mumbai stepping out for a lunch date with her BFF, the actress Mouni Roy. She chose a playful yet chic look for the outing. According to the article, she wore a mint-green printed mini dress with frill detailing. The dress is reported to be the “Match Maker Criss-Cross Back Frill Trim Dress”, priced at USD 79.99. She paired the dress with heels priced at around Rs 9,999, a neutral handbag, and opted for minimal makeup and open hair—a fresh and effortless daytime look.

Why It Works

- Colour & print: The mint-green shade is refreshing and perfectly suited for a daytime city outing—light, vibrant and summer-friendly.
- Design details: The frill trim and criss-cross back add playful texture and an interesting twist to the mini dress silhouette.
- Accessorising: With a simple bag and heels, the outfit balances fun with polish—keeping the focus on the dress rather than overwhelming it with heavy accessories.
- Styling mood: Disha’s open hair and minimal makeup lend a relaxed vibe, making the look approachable yet Instagram-worthy.
