

Ananya Panday Embraces Leather Season with Gen-Z Flair

Published on 05 Nov 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

With the fashion mood shifting toward richer textures and deeper tones for the colder months, Ananya Panday is among the Bollywood divas leading the charge into “leather weather”.

Rather than a heavy luxe or classic biker-look, her approach to leather is described as “fun, upbeat and trend-forward,” bringing a youthful spin to the material.

Style Highlights

- The article notes that she keeps the leather look playful and wearable, proving that leather doesn't have to be intimidating or overly formal—especially for a Gen-Z audience.
- Her styling likely includes leather in unexpected ways—mixing it with streetwear elements, relaxed fits or accessories to keep it fresh rather than stiff or traditional.
- By choosing leather pieces that reflect her signature youthful image, she's helping to redefine leather in Indian fashion: not just tough or evening-only, but transitional and versatile.

Why This Matters

- Ananya's styling bridges it with everyday fashion, which broadens its appeal.
- It signals that even high-fashion fabrics like leather are being adaptive for younger audiences and casual-luxury moments.
- For brands and consumers alike, her endorsement of the trend suggests a shift: leather isn't just for “cool” outerwear, but for fashion statements—even in warm climates or city street looks.

Style Tip Inspired by Her Look

If you want to borrow Ananya-style leather:

- Choose a leather piece in a relaxed silhouette—maybe a lightly structured jacket, a soft leather skirt with a matte finish.
- Mix with youthful pieces: a vintage tee, sneakers, minimal jewellery—so leather doesn't feel overly formal.

- Pick tones that work in daylight: muted black, deep brown, berry leather rather than high-gloss or intense shine.
- Keep the rest of the outfit simple so the leather becomes a statement piece, not over-powered by accessories.
