

Sushmita Sen Stuns in Hand-Embroidered Ivory Rohit Bal Jacket

Published on 05 Nov 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

Actress Sushmita Sen made a bold fashion statement with a longline ivory jacket by eminent designer Rohit Bal. Constructed in Malta silk and styled by Theia Tekchandaney, the piece is remarkable for its tonal hand-embroidered florals that ascend the surface in delicate relief.

Design Details That Speak Volumes

The jacket features a high collar, fitted bodice and subtly flared panels — a sculptural silhouette that remains faithful to Rohit Bal's tailoring signature while feeling modern and poised. A black layer underneath adds visual depth, allowing the ivory base to shine in contrast. The threadwork itself deserves attention: it is not ornate in colour contrast but creates impact through texture and tone-on-tone fluency — described by Vogue as “tonal threadwork at its finest.”

Styling That Complements the Craft

Sushmita complemented the jacket with layered diamond and gold chains, featuring rubies and aquamarines that added sculptural movement to the look. Her hair styled in a wavy up-do with loose tendrils, and makeup leaned into sculpted brows, smoky eyes and a bold matte rose lip — all aligning with the jacket's refined drama.

Why This Look Holds Power

- Precision meets personality: The jacket's tailoring and embroidery reflect high craftsmanship, yet the styling ensures the actor's presence remains central.
- Understated impact: Instead of loud colours or heavy embellishment, the subtle ivory tone and tonal threadwork deliver sophistication without tension.
- Wearability with statement: While couture in feel, the look demonstrates how one well-crafted piece can define a fashion moment.
