Nidhhi Agerwal recently shared an Instagram-look that beautifully balances Indian tradition with modern polish. Styled by Anahita Shroff Adajania, she wore a saree crafted from a collaboration between Basil Leaf World and Viral Mantra. Thus a combo that brought out the fabric's texture, drape and shine. The ensemble was accessorised with subtle yet refined jewellery from Ekadhi Silver Jewellery and styled under the guidance of stylist Pranathi Varma. According to coverage, the look is described as “a celebration of modern Indian fashion: poised, refined, and effortlessly chic.”

Why This Works

- Colour & fabric: The choice of fabric and tone harmonises with Nidhhi's complexion and adds a regal feel without excessive ornamentation.
- Minimal jewellery, maximum effect: By pairing the saree with silver jewellery that adds sparkle without dominating the look, the overall appearance remains elegant and balanced.
- Styling & grooming: Soft hair and minimal makeup keep the focus on the saree's craftsmanship and create an effortless finish.
- Versatility: The styling bridges the gap between festive/traditional and contemporary evening wear—making the saree a progressive choice for many occasions.

This look from Nidhhi Agerwal is a pretty outfit—it's a thoughtful example of how to style a saree. The combination of a well-crafted garment. Along with refined accessories and clean styling sets a benchmark for traditional attire.
