At a glamorous Dubai event on November 12, 2025, Alia Bhatt made a fashion statement in an archival gown by iconic designer Bob Mackie, exuding vintage glamour with a modern twist. The shimmery, nude-toned ensemble featured intricate detailing — pearls, ivory sequins, white and silver beads, and rhinestones — which created a sculptural, flame-like pattern over the fitted silhouette.

Her look was elevated with a high neckline, sheer long sleeves, and a dramatic thigh-high slit, delivering elegance and drama in equal measure.

Subtle but Striking Styling Choices

Alia kept the rest of her styling refined to let the gown shine. She paired it with solitaire diamond earrings, pointed gold heels, and a chic sleek bun. Her makeup leaned warm and dewy, perfectly complementing the golden undertones of her outfit.

Ranbir Matches Her Shine

Standing beside her was Ranbir Kapoor, looking sharp in a dark blue velvet tuxedo jacket, crisp white shirt, and black trousers. He added a touch of personality with blue-tinted glasses and polished black shoes.

A Memorable Evening

The event in Dubai wasn't just about fashion. Alia surprises the crowd by recreating a powerful moment from her film Gangubai Kathiawadi. She delivers a signature pose and dialogue that earned cheers and applause.

Meanwhile, her look sparked plenty of conversation online — fans praised her for channeling retro Hollywood glamour. Meanwhile fashion critics lauded the choice of an archival Bob Mackie piece, a nod to timeless couture.
