

Sara Arjun Turns Heads in Futurist Glamour at Dhurandhar Event

Published on 13 Dec 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

Rising actor Sara Arjun, who stars in the much-anticipated film Dhurandhar, delivered a high-fashion moment as she stepped out in a dramatic sculptural gown by designer Amit Aggarwal. Known for her evolving style sensibility, Sara embraced futuristic glamour with ease, marking yet another milestone in her growing fashion journey.

The appearance quickly caught attention across fashion and social media circles, with many applauding the young actor's confident and experimental approach to style.

Amit Aggarwal's Signature Sculptural Aesthetic

The outfit featured Amit Aggarwal's signature design language — structured silhouettes, fluid metallic textures, and architectural detailing. The sculptural gown balanced drama with refinement, reflecting the designer's ability to merge technology with craftsmanship.

Aggarwal, celebrated for pushing the boundaries of Indian couture through innovation and sustainability, once again showcased his mastery over form and futuristic design through the ensemble.

Minimal Styling, Maximum Impact

Sara Arjun kept the styling understated, allowing the gown to remain the focal point. Clean makeup, subtle accessories, and a sleek hairstyle complemented the dramatic silhouette, enhancing the overall futuristic appeal without overpowering the look.

The styling choice reinforced a growing trend among young actors — letting statement fashion speak for itself.

As Dhurandhar continues to generate buzz, Sara Arjun's fashion-forward appearance adds to the anticipation surrounding the film. Blending cinema with couture, her look highlights how young talent is shaping the future of both Indian films and fashion.
