

Rekha Redefining Christmas Style

Published on 26 Dec 2025 | By IFI Correspondent

Veteran Bollywood icon Rekha has once again captured the spotlight—not for a film, but for her extraordinary Christmas style that seamlessly blends festive cheer with timeless Indian opulence. Rejecting typical holiday fashion tropes like novelty sweaters or glittery party wear, Rekha delivered a look rooted in cultural grace and regal sophistication.

A Regal Red Saree With Festive Flair

For her Christmas appearance, Rekha chose a striking red saree, styled with a velvet tunic and matching velvet accessories that lent depth and texture to her ensemble. The rich hues and luxurious fabrics elevated the traditional Indian garment, transforming it into a statement piece that echoed both celebration and heritage.

This festive interpretation stood in contrast to mainstream holiday attire by embracing classic Indian craftsmanship—making the timeless saree not just attire, but a lesson in cultural style.

A Style Lesson

At a time when festive fashion often leans heavily on Western influences or trends, Rekha's look stood as a reminder of the richness and versatility of Indian traditional wear. Her ability to reinterpret occasion dressing through the lens of cultural elegance continues to influence fashion conversations across generations.

Whether it's red carpet moments or holiday celebrations, Rekha's sartorial choices remain rooted in heritage, confidence, and timeless poise—solidifying her reputation as a true style icon whose influence transcends trends.

For more style updates & exclusive fashion stories follow indiafashionicon.com