At a time when the wellness and personal care market is increasingly dominated by chemical-laden products and symptom-suppressing treatments, Kalpataru Ayurved Chikitsalay stands as a beacon of authenticity and holistic healing. Founded by Dr. Kaustubh Bhoir and Dr. Uma Bhoir, the centre represents a conscious return to the roots of classical, chemical-free Ayurveda—focused on long-term wellness rather than temporary relief.

A Vision Rooted in Classical Ayurvedic Science

Kalpataru Ayurved Chikitsalay was established with a clear and uncompromising vision: to offer pure Ayurvedic treatment that addresses the root cause of disease. Rejecting the widespread use of SLS, parabens, artificial fragrances, alcohol, and synthetic additives, the founders advocate for treatments that restore the body's natural balance through time-tested Ayurvedic principles.

Their philosophy is simple yet powerful—true healing occurs when the body is supported, not forced.
