

Aniket Thakre's Journey with Forever Living

Published on 05 Jan 2026 | By IFI Correspondent

In an age where many young minds chase conventional career paths, Aniket Ashok Thakre chose to listen to his inner calling. Hailing from Kalamba Khurd, a small village in Akola district, Aniket's journey from a rural background to becoming a successful entrepreneur with Forever Living Imports (India) Pvt. Ltd. stands as a compelling example of vision-driven success.

Born into a family rooted in education and service—his father a Zilla Parishad school teacher, his mother a homemaker, and his elder brother a pathologist—Aniket was raised with strong values and discipline. A consistent school topper from 1st to 10th standard, he showed early signs of ambition and clarity. From a young age, he aspired for a life defined by respect, financial independence, and freedom, believing firmly that a traditional job alone could not offer all three.

Education, Choices, and a Clear Vision

Following his family's advice, Aniket pursued education seriously. After completing schooling in his village, he moved to Shegaon for higher studies and completed his 12th (Science). His NEET score of 350 earned him admission into BAMS (Ayurvedic Medicine).

However, Aniket made a bold and unconventional decision. Realizing that medical education would require 5–6 years, and driven by his dream to become a young businessman, he cancelled his medical admission. To strengthen his academic base, he went on to complete a Diploma in Pharmacy (D.Pharm).

Yet, his inner voice remained clear—he wanted a business that could operate from anywhere, offering scalability and continuous income, rather than being bound to a single profession or location.

A Brief Tryst with the Film Industry

A social media enthusiast, Aniket explored opportunities in the film and entertainment industry. He moved to Mumbai, auditioned multiple times, and was selected for projects associated with Mahesh Manjrekar and Akshay Kumar, including the film "Vedyat Veer Marathe Dodale Saat."

He was also selected for the television serial "Aangan", streamed on Amazon Prime and Sony SAB, with all expenses covered and a lucrative per-day remuneration. Despite these promising beginnings, Aniket paused to reflect on the long-term stability of such a career. Family concerns and his own assessment led him to take another bold step—walking away from the industry, even after selection.

Discovering the Entrepreneurial Path with Forever Living

With clarity of purpose, Aniket returned to what he believed was his true calling—business. While exploring opportunities on social media, he came across a government-approved platform, which aligned perfectly with his aspirations. This marked the beginning of his journey with Forever Living Imports (India) Pvt. Ltd.

The initial phase was challenging. He faced criticism, doubts, and negativity from many around him. Yet, Aniket chose focus over fear. Instead of defending his decisions with words, he resolved to let results speak.

Relentless Effort and Tangible Growth

Aniket's routine during the early days was intense—working from morning till late night, surviving on minimal sleep and meals, driven by a singular goal: to succeed and uplift his family.

Gradually, his efforts began to reflect in tangible milestones. He invested in essential business tools, opened a professional office in Shegaon, and within two years, achieved what many dream of—owning a car and a comfortable lifestyle, entirely through his business.

Creating Impact Beyond Personal Success

Today, Aniket Ashok Thakre is recognized as a successful entrepreneur with Forever Living Imports (India) Pvt. Ltd. More importantly, he has emerged as a mentor and guide for over 500 individuals.

Many of those he mentors were once earning ₹10,000–₹15,000 per month in traditional jobs. Today, by working alongside him—often from home—they earn ₹35,000–₹40,000 per month, enabling better living standards for their families.

A Message Rooted in Experience

Despite achieving success at a young age, Aniket remains grounded. He believes struggles are an essential part of growth and continues to learn every day. His message to aspiring entrepreneurs is simple yet powerful:

“Whatever you choose to do, do it with complete dedication. Problems and mistakes will come, but never stop. Learn, adapt, and keep moving forward.”
