

Shanaya Kapoor's Elegant Hand?Painted Pichhwai Silk Lehenga Look

Published on 09 Jan 2026 | By IFI Correspondent

Bollywood actor Shanaya Kapoor has captivated fashion fans with a show?stopping ethnic ensemble featuring a hand? painted Pichhwai silk lehenga by renowned designer Anita Dongre. The look — valued at approximately ₹7,19,500 — blends traditional Indian artistry with contemporary couture flair, seamlessly bringing heritage craft into modern fashion.

A Celebration of Craftsmanship

Shanaya's lehenga is crafted in a deep olive?green tone, adorned with Pichhwai?inspired hand?painted floral and nature motifs that showcase the richness and intricacy of the centuries?old Rajasthani art form. This artistic narrative, applied directly onto luxurious silk fabric, adds depth and cultural resonance to the outfit, elevating it from attire to wearable art.

The structured sleeveless blouse complements the skirt's rich embroidery and hand?painted details. Subtle sequin accents enhance the texture without overpowering the artisanal motifs, striking a balance between elegance and fine craftsmanship.

Styling That Complements the Look

Shanaya accessorised her couture outfit with signature pieces that resonate with the lehenga's aesthetic — including gold jhumkas and a statement ring from her co?created brand Indinoor Jewellery — adding cohesive visual harmony to her festive style. Her soft glowing makeup and neatly styled low hair kept the look refined and elegant, letting the outfit's artistry remain the focal point.

Trend Spotlight:

The trend of incorporating traditional Indian art and artisanal techniques like Pichhwai painting into luxury fashion has gained momentum, with designers like Anita Dongre at the forefront of this movement. Dongre's work continually celebrates Indian craftsmanship by integrating heritage motifs into modern silhouettes — making them relevant for red carpet appearances, weddings and festive celebrations alike.
