

Nora Fatehi's Golden Glamour in Manish Malhotra

Published on 10 Jan 2026 | By IFI Correspondent

Bollywood dancer and actress Nora Fatehi once again turned heads with a show-stopping couture moment, this time in a golden sculptural ensemble designed by famed Indian couturier Manish Malhotra. The look — a striking fusion of heritage craftsmanship and architectural tailoring — showcases how traditional techniques are being reimagined for modern luxury fashion.

A Design That Blends Craftsmanship and Modern Couture

At the heart of the outfit is a structured peplum corset that accentuates Nora's silhouette with precision. The corset's clean, architectural lines owe their visual strength to expert tailoring, while traditional Indian zardozi embroidery and mirror work add intricate texture and shimmer.

The ensemble pairs this corset with a column-style fishtail skirt that elongates the figure and evokes a statuesque elegance. Deep Bordeaux and navy accents frame the metallic gold base, giving the outfit richness and depth while preventing the look from feeling flat or monotonous.

Styling and Details That Elevate the Look

Nora's styling for the ensemble embraced a refined, minimalist glamour that let the couture piece take centre stage. With soft, fluid hair and understated makeup, the focus remains on the garment's intricate details — from its metallic surface to the way light plays across its contours.

The choice of deep, complementary border colours around the golden base adds dimension and richness to the outfit, ensuring it feels both timeless and modern — perfect for red carpet appearances or fashion showcases where couture meets contemporary elegance
