

Alia Bhatt Serves Modern Royalty in Custom Arpita Mehta Saree

Published on 15 Jan 2026 | By IFI Correspondent

Bollywood actress Alia Bhatt recently turned heads with a stunning traditional look that perfectly blended regal elegance and contemporary fashion sensibility. She was spotted wearing a custom saree designed by Indian designer Arpita Mehta, showcasing how classic Indian attire can be elevated with modern touches — both in silhouette and styling.

Her outfit resonated with fashion lovers and fans alike, reinforcing her position not just as a leading actor but also a style influencer who embraces cultural aesthetics with contemporary flair.

The Custom Creation: Arpita Mehta's Signature Touch

The saree, reportedly a bespoke creation by designer Arpita Mehta, exemplifies the designer's signature approach — rich Indian textiles fused with innovative draping and detailing. While specifics like fabric and colour palette were showcased on social platforms around the appearance, the custom nature of the ensemble highlighted Mehta's craft in tailoring traditional wear to a modern silhouette suited to Bhatt's personal style.

Arpita Mehta is known for her fusion aesthetics, often marrying traditional Indian motifs with contemporary lines and unexpected fabric combinations, making her a go-to designer for celebrities seeking standout ethnic looks on and off the red carpet.

Alia Bhatt's choice reflects a broader trend in celebrity fashion where ethnic wear is not confined to festivals or weddings, but embraced as everyday glamour and personal expression. This evolution of style — where sarees become canvases for modern design — continues to inspire fashion lovers nationwide and elevate Indian designers on both national and international stages.

For more style updates & exclusive fashion stories follow indiafashionicon.com