Published on 21 Jan 2026 | By IFI Correspondent

“Knowledge with Love and Trust” is not just a tagline—it is a way of life for Sanjeev Muttur, the visionary entrepreneur behind Pet’s Galaxy, one of the most respected and trusted names in the pet care industry.

An Early Bond with Animals

From a very young age, Sanjeev Muttur shared a deep emotional bond with animals. Dogs, cats, birds, and other pets were not merely companions; they were an integral part of his life. While many view pets as a hobby, Sanjeev saw them as living beings deserving knowledge, care, and compassion.

This innate love gradually evolved into a lifelong mission.

Despite excelling academically and securing a respectable engineering position in a reputed multinational company, his heart remained closely tied to animal care. The stability of a corporate career could not silence his inner calling—to dedicate his life to pets and their well-being.

From Engineer to Pet Professional

Balancing a demanding engineering career alongside his passion for animals was challenging, but Sanjeev never stopped learning. He acquired in-depth expertise in dog and cat breeds, particularly German Shepherds, Labrador Retrievers, and other champion bloodline breeds.

Over the years, he invested himself in mastering:
