

From a Small Dream to a Digital Lifeline: The Inspiring Journey of Lifeline Computers

Published on 22 Jan 2026 | By IFI Correspondent

With over 30 years of trust, experience, and success, Lifeline Computers, Satpur (Serco), Nashik, stands as a pillar of quality computer education in Maharashtra. Established on 15 August 1995, a day symbolizing freedom and new beginnings, the institute was founded with a powerful belief—that computer education should be accessible to every student, not treated as a luxury.

What began as a small initiative with a handful of students has today transformed into a respected institution that has shaped the careers of thousands of successful students across rural and urban regions.

Visionary Leadership of Dnyandev Balkrishna Khairnar

The institute was founded by Mr. Dnyandev Balkrishna Khairnar, who serves as the Founder, Owner, and Centre Coordinator of Lifeline Computers. At a time when computer education was still a new concept, limited infrastructure, minimal resources, and technological challenges stood in the way. However, Mr. Khairnar's unwavering determination and belief in education ensured that the mission never lost direction.

His guiding principle was simple yet powerful:

"The institution's growth matters, but the student's capability matters even more."

Three Decades of Consistency and Commitment

From 1995 to the present, technology has evolved rapidly and generations have changed, but the core values of Lifeline Computers have remained unchanged—integrity, quality, and student-focused education. The institute has consistently adapted to technological advancements while maintaining ethical teaching practices and practical learning approaches.

Through a wide range of professional and job-oriented computer courses, Lifeline Computers has helped students become employable, self-reliant, and confident in the digital era.

Student-Centric Approach: The True Foundation of Success

At the heart of Lifeline Computers' success lies its student-first philosophy. The institute has played a key role in empowering:

- Rural and urban students
- Job-seeking youth

- Aspiring entrepreneurs
- Women seeking self-reliance
- Learners contributing to Digital India

For many, Lifeline Computers has truly lived up to its name by becoming a “lifeline” to education, skills, and opportunity.

Quality Education with Government and MKCL Recognition

Lifeline Computers is a proud MKCL (Maharashtra Knowledge Corporation Limited) affiliated institute, offering government-recognized and industry-relevant courses. Over 250+ courses are delivered as kLiC programs, including:
