Bollywood icon Rani Mukerji kicked off the promotional tour for her highly anticipated film Mardaani 3 in Mumbai with a commanding all-black ensemble that perfectly encapsulated the film's intense and powerful spirit. The look quickly became the talk of fashion circles and entertainment media, blending sophistication with a fierce edge.

Decoding the All-Black Ensemble

For her first major promotional appearance, Mukerji chose a sleek all-black outfit featuring a fitted bodysuit paired with stylish high-waisted flared pants — a combination that exuded both strength and elegance. The bodysuit, with its structured collar and gold-button accents left slightly open, added a subtle yet striking flair to the overall look.

The flared pants balanced the boldness of the top with a flowing silhouette, creating movement and drama as she walked. Minimal-but-impactful accessories, including elegant jewellery, complemented the monochrome theme without overpowering it.

Styling and Makeup Details

Mukerji kept the styling contemporary yet refined: her hair was left down in a simple, polished style, while her makeup leaned toward a natural, glowing look — balancing the boldness of black with understated elegance. This allowed her outfit to take centre stage while still portraying a warm, confident presence.

Her choice of jewellery and accessories remained subtle but thoughtful, enhancing the powerful fashion statement without distracting from the overall aesthetic.
