

A New Benchmark in Dhule Hospitality: The Chandradeep Regency Story

Published on 24 Jan 2026 | By IFI Correspondent

It is often said that a true entrepreneur is one who recognizes opportunity and transforms it into reality. Dinesh Dilip Jagtap, a young entrepreneur from Dhule, has proven this belief through action. By establishing Hotel Chandradeep Regency, he has not only created a landmark for the city but has also set a new benchmark in the local hotel industry.

Strong Educational Background and Business Roots

A resident of Dhule, Dinesh Jagtap holds an MBA in Marketing from Pune. He comes from a well-established business family with interests in construction, land development, and petrol pump operations. After completing his education, he actively joined the family's construction business, gaining valuable experience in large-scale project execution and management.

The Desire to Create Something New

While working in the construction sector, Dinesh constantly felt the need to do something distinctive for his home district—something Dhule had never seen before. This curiosity led him to conduct in-depth market research.

During his study, he discovered a significant gap: Dhule did not have a single three-star hotel, despite its growing industrial presence and increasing business travel. Recognizing the untapped potential, he analyzed market demand, studied the hospitality industry, assessed future industrial growth, and prepared a detailed feasibility report for a premium hotel project.

Hotel Chandradeep Regency: A Bold Entrepreneurial Leap

With clarity and conviction, Dinesh made a bold decision—to build Dhule's first three-star hotel. Construction of Hotel Chandradeep Regency began in July 2017 and was completed within 26 months, becoming fully operational by September 2019.

The journey was far from easy. Dinesh had no prior experience in the hotel industry, making the venture both risky and challenging. However, his leadership skills, strategic planning, and confidence helped him turn this challenge into an opportunity.

Leadership, Teamwork, and Trust

According to Dinesh Jagtap, the success of any large enterprise depends on the right team and strong leadership. While learning the nuances of the hospitality sector, he focused on building a skilled and dedicated team. Today, Hotel Chandradeep Regency operates smoothly, driven by efficient management and customer-focused service.

A Modern Hospitality Destination in Dhule

Hotel Chandradeep Regency has now become a trusted and prestigious name in Dhule. The property offers a wide range of modern amenities, including:

The hotel also provides employment to more than 100 people, contributing significantly to local job creation.
