The Award-Winning Success Journey of Ashish Gawade

Published on 13 Feb 2026 | By IFI Correspondent

Located in Karvenagar, Pune, Hotel Sinhgad Chowpati has carved a distinct identity as a dependable family restaurant. Established in 2018 under the Group of Mejwani, the restaurant reflects the passion, dedication, and foresight of its founder, Dnyaneshwar (Ashish) Gawade. What began as a modest dream has evolved into a symbol of quality, authentic taste, and warm hospitality.

A Journey Rooted in Ground-Level Experience

Ashish Gawade's entry into the hospitality industry was entirely experience-driven. After completing his higher secondary education, he pursued hotel management training and began his career at the grassroots level. From table service to roles as captain and manager, and eventually as a restaurant owner, his journey has been shaped by hands-on learning and relentless hard work.

A major source of inspiration was his brother-in-law, Shankar Dhonukshe, who was already operating multiple restaurants under the Group of Mejwani banner. With his mentorship and guidance, Ashish laid the foundation of Sinhgad Chowpati as a restaurant that would stand for hygiene, flavor, and trust.

A Taste That Wins Hearts

Sinhgad Chowpati offers a wide range of vegetarian, non-vegetarian, and especially seafood dishes. Known for its freshness and traditional flavors, the restaurant's seafood menu has become particularly popular among patrons. The ambiance is thoughtfully designed to be family-friendly and safe, making it a preferred dining destination for households in the area.

Consistent taste and respectful service have helped the restaurant build a strong base of loyal customers. According to Ashish, these repeat guests are the restaurant's greatest achievement and true measure of success.

Steady Growth Through Quality

While many businesses chase rapid expansion, Sinhgad Chowpati has prioritized consistency and quality over aggressive growth. Since its inception in 2018, the restaurant has operated successfully without major expansion plans—an achievement that underscores its operational stability and customer satisfaction.

Overcoming Challenges Through Strong Management

In the early days, managing staff and inventory posed significant challenges, especially with multiple restaurants operating under the same group. However, structured management systems, improved processes, and a supportive work environment helped overcome these hurdles.

The experience reinforced an important lesson for Ashish: strong management is the key to sustainable success.

Beyond Business: Community Impact

Sinhgad Chowpati contributes to the local community by generating employment opportunities. A strong sense of mutual trust has developed among employees, management, and customers, forming the foundation of the restaurant's enduring success.

Recognized for Excellence

The restaurant was recently honored in the "Best Family Restaurant" category, recognizing its consistent quality, welcoming environment, and exceptional seafood offerings. For Ashish and his team, the award is not just recognition but validation of years of dedication.

Accepting the honor, Ashish humbly remarked,
"This award is not just a recognition for us, but a reminder of greater responsibility."

Looking Ahead

For now, Ashish Gawade remains focused on maintaining the restaurant's existing standards rather than pursuing rapid expansion. His advice to aspiring entrepreneurs is simple yet powerful:
"Business will always have ups and downs, but never compromise on quality and consistency."

From learning the nuances of hospitality at the grassroots level to becoming a successful restaurateur, Dnyaneshwar (Ashish) Gawade's journey stands as a truly inspiring example within Pune's entrepreneurial landscape.
